Alternative school suspension program slated to begin soon

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

An alternative school suspension program that could hopefully give local students a new positive option in changing their behavioral patterns has been unveiled by the Romulus schools, police department and 34th District Court officials.

Under the plan students in the sixth through eighth grades, who have been given a severe clause suspension would have the option of spending a day in the 34th District Court in lieu of a traditional school suspension.

Students would have the option of spending a day in the 34th District Court in lieu of a traditional school suspension.

They would be required (if their parents agree) to spend a day in the court rooms of either District Court Judges Tine Brooks Green or Brian Oakley.

According to information supplied by Cory Elementary School Principal Phyllis Adkins, the students would then witness the consequences of choices that others have made and gain an understanding of the judicial system.

The participating students then would be required to keep a log of their observations and then prepare a statement that reflects their intentions to improve their own behavior.

According to the plan, students and their parents would meet the assigned judge at 8:30 a.m. on the designated day and review the requirements of the program and the events that led up to the disciplinary action.

The parent would then return to the court about 3:30 p.m. to pick up their child.

This would be a one time only option, follow-up infractions would be handled in the more traditional way, court officers said.

The responsibilities would be as follows:
Parents — provide transportation to and from the court, provide the child's bag lunch and join the conference with the judge and child.

Student — log his or her observations of the day's court proceedings and return to school with a statement that reflects their intentions to improve their own behavior.

Court — judge will be responsible for meeting with parent and student to review the purpose of the referral and will strongly encourage parent's participation in counseling and involvement in student's education.

School — principal will inform parent of suspension option and get dates when parents are available to participate. Also will contact judge to set up planned session. Various school officials will provide follow-up on program.

Superstar good for laughs

I can remember sitting in my room and listening to the tunes of the 80's. I dreamed, wild dreams. You know the ones where you are a movie star or a rock star and everyone wants to be a part of your life.

They scream your name and beg for your autograph. They need you to touch their life in some little way, but you would always stop for your fans. The ones that made you what you were. The ones screaming out your name where ever you go.

Now here I am writing this from my work space. Thinking to myself what the heck was I thinking. I was just a kid of course and kids are allowed to dream. Then I remember that there are actually kids out there making millions of dollars doing something I dreamed of. Oh well life goes on and here we are spending some time together.

Of course you are in the same predicament. You are either reading this from your comfy suburban frontroom with your wife, husband, or significant other sitting close by or you are possibly sitting in an office space just killing a few minutes before 5 p.m. You never imagined your life would be anything less than a superstar's life right, but here you are.

In the recent release Superstar a teenage Catholic school-girl by the name of Mary Catherine Gallagher displays the zest for life, she feels, is enough to make her a super-can not have the boy that she want because he is taken by the most popular and pretty girl in school. Her Grandmother refuses to let her partake in a talent show that may actually shoot her to stardom with the first prize being a walk on in a movie. Then there is the new kid in school who never talks to anybody and the rumor is he killed his family.

This movie brings you through the screaming world of Mary Catherine. If you are an avid SNL watcher you will laugh just as hard as I did watching Molly Shannon portray this little fireball. If you are not an avid watcher you may end up starting to stay up late on Saturday night to watch Shannon and her very talented array of co-workers.

Make sure though while you are watching the movie to keep your eye on the back ground. You'll find a recent trend setting object that will make you wonder if the makers have a piece of the movie.

This movie will make you laugh your fool head off. It is a nice change of pace compared to the recent death endorsed films out this year. You laugh until you cry, then you'll laugh some more.

Mary Catherine, played by Saturday Night Live's Molly Shannon who made this character what it is today, is a quite confused young lady. All she wants in her life is a boyfriend and a crowd screaming her name. Nothing too major right.

Nankin Hardware lead's Westland's beautification

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

The recently instituted Facade and Sign upgrade program is beginning to make a visual difference. At a September meeting of the Westland Downtown Development Authority design review committee, two projects were approved for incentive funding.

Nankin Hardware, located at 35101 Ford Road, is planning to expand their existing building. Plans include a 3100 sq. foot expansion of the east side of the building and exterior visual improvements. The building expansion will provide additional selling area and storage space. The visual upgrade will provide a co-ordinated visual look and parking lot improvements.

Collision Services Inc. at 33000 Ford Rd. plans to landscape the area next to the public right of way and to install a new sign.

Owner Tod Blevins indicated that the reason for the upgrade of the recently acquired building is to improve the image of his business.

Work has begun on the new Auto Zone store on North Wayne Road across from the Wayne Ford Civic League. This 7,750 square foot facility should be completed by the end of 1999.

Auto Zone is one of the nation's largest do-it-yourself auto parts stores. Established in 1987, Auto Zone has annual net sales that exceed 3 billion dollars.

You may have noticed the pavement being removed in the K-Mart parking lot. Wonder why? Contractors are making way for a new sign and landscaping. By the end of the year, contractors will install redspire pear, spiraea and other low growing indigenous plantings. The new sign will be a monument style now required by the City of Westland.

Caller suspicious about high cost of city council campaigns

There must be a lot of money to be made as a [Westland? - Ed.] councilperson when some of the top dogs that are running in the race are spending the kind of money they are spending to retain this part-time job that doesn't pay that much to begin with.

There's a lot of money changing hands.

Amazing that Supe Larry Thomas still works for Wayne-Westland

Not only am I amazed that former Wayne-Westland Superintendent Larry Thomas has surfaced as a Plymouth-Canton superintendent candidate, I am disappointed to read that the Wayne-Westland district retains him as a consultant in spite of the depths to which the district sank under his leadership.

Wannabe superintendents to be interviewed

By JIM TANTALO
MCN Special Writer

Candidates for the new Plymouth-Canton superintendent have been narrowed down to six, and a final selection is expected as early as December.

The six finalists have been whittled down from an original 45 applicants by The Bickert Group, Ltd., an Illinois search firm.

The P-C school district has been searching for a new permanent superintendent since June of this year, when Chuck Little announced his resignation. Ken Walcott has been acting as interim superintendent since then.

The Plymouth-Canton school board hopes to begin the first interviewing phase Tuesday.

Board members will ask candidates questions written by a citizens committee, and then evaluate the six based on their responses. Questions will range from their actions in previous school districts to how they might handle issues currently effecting Plymouth-Canton.

The board hopes to have their first series of interviews completed by this Thursday.

From that evaluation, the candidates will be narrowed down to the three who "have the best fit for the district," in the words of board member Roland Thomas.

About a week after the first interviews are complete, the remaining candidates will be invited on a major tour of the school district. They will be walked through the schools, introduced to teachers, students and community members and shown most of the school system.

Their families will also be introduced to the homes and businesses around Plymouth and Canton.

This is an important stage for both the candidate and the district. As David Hendrix, senior associate for the Bickert Group told the board at a meeting last Tuesday, "The candidates are looking at you as much as you are looking at them. They're asking themselves why they should come to Plymouth-Canton."

After the tour, the candidates will be taken through another interview. This time longer, and with a more demanding evaluation.

This second phase could take until the end of November.

When the board has narrowed down the applicants to one, they will visit his or her community and talk with people they work with.

If the board likes what they see, the candidate will be offered the position. It is hoped that this phase will be completed before the end of December.

The district could face another problem if the final candidate is unable to start right away. The contract for Ken Walcott is only good until the end of January, and he may not be willing to prolong his stay.

If the final candidate's current contract does not allow them to start near the time Walcott leaves, the board might have to start a search for yet another interim superintendent.

Information about the initial six applicants was delivered to the board last Tuesday.

They are:

(b)Phyllis Wilson.{r} The deputy superintendent of the Columbus Public School System in Columbus, Ohio, for the past 12 years. She helps oversee 65,054 students in the $585 million school system. She has a Ph.D. in educational administration from Ohio State University.

James Harris. Superintendent of the Buffalo school system in Buffalo, New York, with 48,000 students and an annual budget of $456 million. He has a Ph.D. in educational administration from the University of Michigan.

William Weber. The assistant superintendent of the South Redford School District in Redford for the past 23 years. The South Redford School District has 3,450 students and has a budget of $25 million. Weber has a Ph.D. in general school administration from the University of Michigan.

Thomas Gay. The superintendent of the $35 million Redford Union School District, also in Redford. He oversees 5,000 students, and has a Ph.D. in educational leadership from the University of Dayton.

Larry Thomas. An educational consultant for the Wayne-Westland School District, and a former superintendent from the same district. Thomas has an Ed.D. in administration and superintendent positions from Wayne State University.

Kathleen Booher.Superintendent of the Berkley School District in Berkley. She has an Ed.D. in English education from Rutgers University, and oversees 4,350 students in the $32 million district.

For comparison, Plymouth-Canton has a student enrollment of 16,272 persons, and an annual operating budget of $101 million.

2000 Merit Program by taking the 1998 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

A Merit Program spokesperson commented, "The young men and women named Commended Students have demonstrated outstanding academic potential by their high performance in the extremely competitive National Merit Program. These scholastically talented youth represent a valuable resource to our nation, and it is important to publicly recognize their attainments and to credit schools for the important part they play in their development. Belleville High School to go 'on the air'

Van Buren Public Schools and MediaOne announced cablecasting on WBHS-TV beginning January, 2000 from the students of Belleville High School to residents of Van Buren Township on Channel 19.

Installation of a fiber optic cable from MediaOne's head-end facility to the Belleville High School Media Production Studio will enable students to broadcast concerts, sporting events, theater productions, and other school activities through two-way video transmission. The students will produce most of the programming and assist in the channel's operation.

Superintendent James Richendollar praised Van Buren Township officials Helen Foster, Cindy King, and Mike Long, who were instrumental in bringing this project to fruition. "They met with us for many long hours to understand how students would benefit from this opportunity, and worked with MediaOne officials to make the dream come true," says Richendollar. The Superintendent also hailed the gift from MediaOne as an important sign of a new partnership between the broadband communications provider and the school district. "We are most pleased to see this evidence of support for our students, who will benefit from the chance to train for jobs in the television, information and entertainment industry," Richendollar said.

Upon completion of the project, students will broadcast programs from their studio to residents within the community when WBHS-TV goes on the air in January, 2000.

C.H.I.P.S. spaghetti dinner tonight

A local group will host a "Fun Raiser" to raise money for a very serious, worthwhile cause. The committee Helping to Improve Public Safety (C.H.I.P.S.) will host their 7th Annual Spaghetti Dinner for the $10,000 endowment for heirs of local public safety workers in the event of death in the line of duty.

The group raises funds for the families of Van Buren Township, Belleville, and Sumpter Township police and fire departments, and is funded by three annual events: the spaghetti dinner, a night golf outing, and a pancake breakfast.

Dinner will be served between 6 and 9 p.m. tonight and will include spaghetti, meatballs, rolls, salad, dessert and beverages. Vegetarian fare and carry-out are also available.

The big event will take place at Van Buren Eagles Hall, located on Beck Road, just south of Tyler Road, and north of the I-94 South Service Drive.

The price has been kept low for many years: $5 for adults, and $4 for children under the age of 12 and seniors over the age of 60.

Anyone who would like to offer a little more assistance can make donations to C.H.I.P.S. Call (734) 467-5439 for more information.

Thompson Towers awarded $300,000 federal grant

Thompson Towers, a senior citizens housing apartment complex, is under a substantial rehabilitation thanks to a $300,000 grant from the Affordable Housing Program (AHP) of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis.

The $9.4 million project, sponsored by Southwest Non-profit Housing Corporation and TT-98 Limited Divided Housing Association, received its grant in partnership with the Great Lakes National Bank in Ann Arbor, a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis.

Southwest will be active in the development of social and support services to the residents.

"We recognize the value in helping our members participate in their local communities' affordable housing and community development efforts," said Martin L. Heger, president and CEO of the FHLBI. "When a variety of organizations participate in finding solutions to community problems, everyone benefits."

Since 1990, the Indianapolis Bank has been awarding Affordable Housing Program (AHP) grants to partnerships between member financial institutions, like the Great Lakes National, and not-for-profit organizations, like Southwest and TT-98, to help low-income families obtain housing they can afford.

The FHLBI reserves 10 percent of its annual net income for AHP grants, which can be used by low-income housing developers to help meet building costs or by low-income home buyers as partial down payments, interest rate buydowns or other mechanisms that create more affordable housing opportunities.

In the past 10 years, the Affordable Housing Program has helped more than 200,000 housing units.

Census 2000 City is counting on you to be counted

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

If you are not counted during the all-important Census 2000 count, the city may lose megabucks because of an under count of the city's population.

That was the message that Mayor Edward Bivens Jr. and the "Complete Count Committee" for the City of Inkster stressed last week during a press conference held at City Hall.

The conference was called for the main purpose to "get the message out of the importance Census 2000 is the city," according to the Curtisene Barge, Census 2000 coordinator for the city.

"We are presently conducting a grass roots campaign to educate everyone living in the city of Inkster about the importance of their participation and being a part of the Census 2000 count," Barge said.

Bivens stressed the need for a complete count because the city could lose between $240 and $3,000 in state and federal funds for every person not counted.

The mayor went on to say "there must be a partnership formed with the schools, social and civic organizations, businesses, churches, residents and everyone who calls Inkster their home to join together with the committee in aggressively encouraging city-wide participation in the Census 2000 population count."

Naomi James, who serves as mayor pro tem of city council, commended the committee on its efforts and activities. She introduced the committee's Green Ribbon Wearing Campaign.

James noted that the green ribbons will be worn until April 1, 2000 to publicize the upcoming census count.

"Complete Count Committee for the City of Inkster" members include James Colie, chairperson; and members Robert Cook, Judith Frazier, Terry Morgan, Alicia Nash, Deborah Owens and Willie Williams.

Healthcare at $39 per month

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

If there is anyone who is responsible for his or her or their family's healthcare who is not concerned about the continuous rise in costs of care it's probably because they have just hit the lottery.

But, for most local and state residents, paying for and paying off medical bills is one of the principle concerns of existence.

But Ruth McRae, of National Benefits & Services, Corporation, says there is now a plan that can help ease the tension of paying for medical services.

"Our program provides for all of the enrollee's healthcare needs at the fraction of the costs," said McRae, during a telephone interview last week. "And, there is no waiting period or medical examination prior acceptance needed. Not only that we have a policy of acceptance on all re-existing conditions as well."

The cost, stressed McRae, is $39 per month.

Not only will the participating person reduce their out of pocket costs on dental care, vision care, prescription drugs, chiropractic care, hearing, bills to medical doctors, physicians, but they will also have an opportunity to receive additional services such as legal, financial, hotel emergency travel, car rental through the National Benefits & Services' program.

The corporation has succeeded, McRae notes, because its philosophy and mission statement is focused upon servicing the people.

For more information about the program or for immediate enrollment, contact 1-888-437-3009.

"Simply put," McRae concludes, "we here to help families and individuals acquire professional healthcare and benefits at an affordable cost that will allow them continuous savings on out-of-pocket expenses and to function as an effective supplemental 'buying advantage' to provide true value to the members belonging to our program."

For more information about the program or for immediate enrollment, contact 1-888-437-3009.

Districts that spend more, score lower, but receive higher newspaper "grades," according to Van Buren Public Schools.

district to reduce class size for the past several years," says Richendollar; "because we have received less money we have not reduced class size as greatly as other districts."

Richendollar then made the following statement:

We were doubly penalized by the newspaper for what the state chooses to give us, or perhaps I should say not give us; first, we lost points because we don't get as much to spend as other districts; and second, we lost points for not having smaller class sizes, which can only be paid for with more foundation spending.

I am greatly troubled that our district was called a failure because of the reasons cited above. However, I am especially troubled because despite receiving fewer dollars, our MEAP scores and ACT scores are higher than other districts that have more money to spend per student than we do.

That is correct; at least nine other districts, two with a "grade" of C-, received up to $3,000 more per student. While these districts have more money than we do, they have lower MEAP and ACT scores than we do. Nonetheless, none of them was called a failure. Indeed, these districts received higher "grades" from the newspaper.

If you examine the districts to which the newspaper gave the top grade of "A" you will notice they all spend significantly more per pupil than does Van Buren Public Schools. The following districts are the "A" level districts with their current per public funding indicated:

- Avondale ($7,629 per student)
- Birmingham ($9,997 per student)
- Grosse Pointe ($8,530 per student)
- Bloomfield districts ($11,329 per student)
- Farmington ($9,468 per student)

- Troy ($8,131 per student)
- Novi ($7,600 per student)

In addition, the districts which received the newspaper grade "A" all have smaller class sizes, again a result of the higher foundation allowance they receive.

So, if the newspaper would have us believe that per pupil spending does not count, we would ask the newspaper why our district was penalized because we receive less money from the state. We also question the validity of a scoring system that results in the devaluing of our ACT and MEAP scores, but credits higher ratings to districts that receive greater state funding allowances.

Rather than accept the opinion of a newspaper, I would challenge anyone interested in a realistic assessment of our schools to contact members of our Board of Education or our administrative team.

Readership scores based upon 1998 Belden Research study of suburban Detroit.

Let's recognize volunteers for contributions to area

Try to imagine your child's school without volunteers who read, tutor or even help in the lunchroom and without the help of businesses that donate school books, expertise or goods and services.

Try to imagine what our community would be like without the organizations that assist the elderly, the disadvantaged, and the disenfranchised. And without the clubs that work for the betterment of the arts, the environment and our civic unity.

Don't want to try? We don't blame you, we wouldn't want to try, either.

Which is exactly why Michigan Community Newspapers has decided to honor some of these hard-working selfless volunteers who make the communities we live in so much better. MCN would like to shine the spotlight on the people, groups and businesses that make such a positive difference for all of us.

Thus we're asking readers to nominate friends and neighbors who have made contributions in the following categories:

CITIZEN of the YEAR- Help us select an individual who has played a key leadership role in the development of new programs or securing resources for existing programs to further the efforts of worthwhile causes in Western Wayne.

VOLUNTEER of the YEAR- Help us select an individual, who is not a paid employee, who sets an example by using his or her own time or energy to perform daily or weekly volunteer work.

ORGANIZATION of the YEAR- A group that has made a significant contribution to Western Wayne in the intellectual, cultural, business, industrial or civic life of the community.

BUSINESS of the YEAR- A business that has made a major impact on the area, whether through employ participation charitable contributions or community service.

Below, you will find an entry form that you can fill out in a couple of minutes and send our way. Our address is Michigan Community Newspapers, PO Box 578, Wayne, MI 48184. Or if you choose you can access the same form via Internet. Our website can be easily reached at micomnews@aol.com.

Whether by print or by the Internet, do be sure to nominate a deserving group or individual for this recognition. And please do it soon. The nomination deadline is November 20, 1999.

We look forward to hearing from you - and to share the great news about the winners of these annual awards.

Board must lead or perish

By Vesta Losen
Van Buren Community Schools

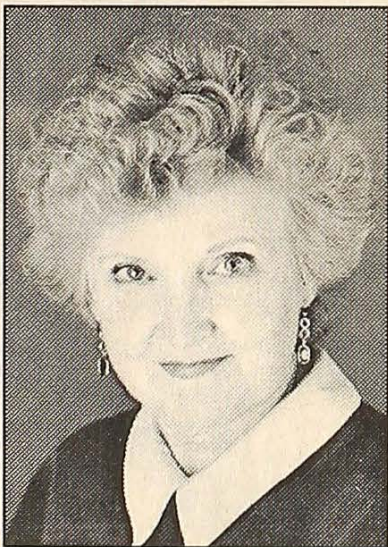

It seems many were surprised at the article appearing in the Sunday Detroit News and Free Press on 10/24/99, granting some districts around us very low grades, and Van Buren the lowest possible, and "F."

I'm sure persons who have recently been told by their real estate agents that Van Buren is "an excellent school system" are rocked back a bit. The agents may have assumed they were told the truth by the school public relations department.

Certainly the administration has tried to convey a positive message for the past few years, while trying desperately to persuade taxpayers that we need to build more and larger schools for the huge influx of students expected with all the construction in the township.

Truth is, instead of the two thousand additional students projected in a three-year period, we have gained seventy-one. If the school board continues to blindly follow the lead of administration, we stand to lose those students, and more.

Our board has been too concerned with keeping the employees content with their raises and their expensive MESSA insurance, which a majority of districts have dumped already, keeping a stranglehold on transportation so all those employees can remain loyal to the cause, and convincing the public that we are "successfully" raising their children for

Of course, the education has been left to the experts. Board members are not supposed to have to deal with THAT. It is considered rude and "micro-managing" on our part to question what is going on there!

If you doubt it, try reviewing a few tapes of past board meetings.

Meanwhile, last year, the board, in all its wisdom, decided to offer a $50,000 retirement bonus to all teachers with about 10 years experience, replacing them with totally inexperienced teachers. If the report in the News were written today, our grade would be even lower.

No matter. Hiring cheaper teachers gave us the opportunity to give all 750 employees healthy raises, with teachers receiving added incremental funds.

As John Adams said, "Facts are stubborn things, and whatever may be our wishes, our inclinations, or the dictates of our passions, they cannot alter the state of facts and evidence."

I have been tracking the low MEAP scores these past four years, and speaking to the issue often, and I believe the news report to be a fair and objective review of our performance.

It was sad to see the poor report card Van Buren schools received, I felt sorry for the good teachers that we have, so many of them new this year. I was further discouraged, however, to note that parents did not seem to care enough, or realize what has been happening. Not one parent came to the board meeting to demand an answer for the failure.

I've never played the politics game and I won't now. My six grandchildren are still in the failing system. I have sent hundreds of children from what some like to refer to as "my private kindergarten" to Van Buren elementary schools over the past 20 years. I'm a school board member at this time because I care.

However, my warnings - and those of fellow board member Tom Bowles - have gone unheeded for the past four years because the rest of the board and the MEA in particular has been concentrating on painting whatever picture they can to depict us as "the enemy" of public education.

Obviously, until someone admits we have a problem, there will not be a solution. We will continue to see parents, individually and quietly withdraw from the schools. When the administration is concerned about "out-migration," as they call it, they do not have to look far for the reason.

I misfired: squirrel shooter wasn't a hunter

I owe reader Mike Stetler a retraction.

Stetler called me out on my use of the word "hunter."

He wrote, "I don't expect you to understand the concept of hunting" after I called a man who shot a BB gun at squirrels in his backyard a "squirrel hunter."

One day the man missed a squirrel and his BB ricocheted off a fence and dinged a neighbor in the shoulder. Ouch.

After reading the article, Stetler requested that I retract my description of the squirrel shooter.

My electronic New World Dictionary says that a hunter is "someone who hunts." It says that to hunt is "to go out to kill or catch (game)."

Mr. Stetler is correct. It isn't very sporting to shoot a neighbor.

I apologize to the all the real hunters who obey the laws and only shoot game.

"I... am a hunter and do obey the laws and rules that are set forth for us," Stetler wrote, adding, "This, sir, is not my purpose of writing to you. Basically hunters are having a hard enough time keeping their Second Amendment right and the challenge of harvesting the natural resources set aside for us."

Again Mr. Stetler is correct: hunters and their guns are under siege, they may go the way of cigarette smokers and the dodo bird.

Social disapproval stemming from perceived gun violence is apparently putting the squeeze on hunters.

The same day that I received Mr. Stetler's e-mail comments, the Wall Street Journal reported that "gun makers face a shrinking market as the stigma rises and hunting wanes."

According to an article that appeared the same day in the Denver Post the percentage of males who reported hunting dropped from 19.5% in 1980 to 16.4% in 1990.

Reportedly its still dropping because older hunters are kicking the habit and youngsters are losing interest.

People between the ages of 18 and 24 made up only 8% of all hunters in 1995, down from 17% in 1986, the National Shooting Sports Foundation told the Journal. In one major hunting state, Pennsylvania, sales of junior hunting licenses have dropped 40% during the past three decades.

Historically, many fathers introduced their sons to hunting and some still do, but reportedly the current trend is for fathers to hunt with their buddies and wives or girlfriends instead of with their sons.

In fact, women are the only category of hunters still growing.

Nationally, the percentage of women who hunt has doubled, from 1.5% in 1985 to 3% today, according to the National Survey of Hunting, Fishing and Wildlife-Associated Recreation, hunting everything from quail to bears.

While I was never much of a hunter, limited to duck and pheasant hunting, I respect hunting and hunters.

I can remember agreeing with the late Herman Kahn, Ronald Reagan's chief mutual assured destruction theorist, when Kahn said that hunting was the great divide between traditional men and the new managerial elite, what we now call yuppies.

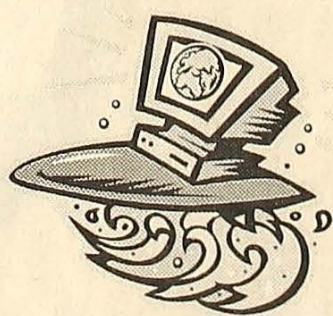

As far as Mr. Stetler's desire to defend his Second Amendment right to bear arms, it's my misfortune to provide him with a reality check: almost all of the Bill of Rights' provisions have been turned on their head, some by judges, some by popular will.

Surveys indicate that while few Americans are familiar with the Bill of Rights, when asked, most disapprove of those rights.

For better or worse, the United States has evolved into a much different nation than George Washington envisioned. The nation will keep on evolving in unpredictable ways.

If present trends continue, the future looks dim for hunters and gun owners. While my sympathies lie with the hunters, I can't help but think many of them would be happier seeking a bright future instead of a dim one.

Powser hits rock bottom: sends out 'sloppily assembled mailing'

To the Editor:

After watching and listening in disgust for many months to our televised City Council meetings, reading about local events and issues in the newspaper and studying election materials distributed by the various candidates, I reached the end of my tolerance yesterday. I was embarrassed and insulted by a sloppily assembled mailing with a return address naming Shirley Powser.

First, but hardly utmost, I was embarrassed to see the unprofessional manner in which the envelopes were addressed, stuffed and sealed. The method used in assembling the mailing revealed a lack of knowledge and understanding of proper correspondence practices (neat and tidy typing and folding, proofreading to eliminate typographical and grammatical errors and an orderly assembly of materials to convey a message). Instead, what I received was a collection of unrelated opinions and misrepresented facts presented with no real format, copies of various documents slapped together back-to-back, with portions underlined or with comments scribbled in longhand in the margins. How embarrassing to Mrs. Powser and to those she is supposed to be supporting that either she does not possess common correspondence skills or just does not care to invest the time and effort to present herself and her allegations in an orderly fashion.

I am embarrassed, too, for the council candidates who have innocently or at least mistakenly looked to Mrs. Powser for support in their race for seats on the city council. The term "guilty by association" comes to mind in this regard, as one would assume that accepting support from any individual at least implies commonly held principles and practices.

Finally and foremost, I was thoroughly insulted to think that the same tactics that were employed before Mrs. Powser began her term on the council (i.e., "the most important letter you will ever read") were again being attempted. Surely the citizens of Wayne remember the months of Task Force Committee, city council and city staff time invested in responding to her first letter fiasco. As you may recall, Mrs. Powser alleged wrongdoings committed by everyone from the city finance department to the Michigan state police. A Task Force was assembled to study the allegations and, months and months and $20,000 + later, it was confirmed that not one of her accusations had any merit whatsoever.

I would have hoped that we all, including Mrs. Powser (who never made any apology for all the needless hours and dollars which were wasted on her behalf) would have learned from one bad experience. Surely Mrs. Powser does not expect the citizens of Wayne to be taken in, again, by her scare tactics threatening every citizen's most sensitive source of security - our money! Mrs. Powser is continually (and very annoyingly) representing herself as the guardian of our tax dollars, yet, she never appeared to bat an eye as "our money" was wasted chasing down her paranoid suspicions and accusations.

Her latest tangent regards credit card usage by the city staff and administration. She would have us believe that, not only is there misuse of these accounts, but that they are in some way wasting "our" money. She fails to note that the accounts needed to efficiently conduct city business allow for the Accounting Department to keep detailed accounts with one monthly payment made to an individual business, rather than chasing down individual purchases. It would also seem that these accounts would operate more efficiently because the city's tax exempt status would be documented. Furthermore, the accounts do not cost the taxpayer any interest, etc., because payment is made in a timely manner. The use of credit accounts is both practically and professionally efficient and ethical. The scenario suggested by forcing the city to operate without "credit" accounts is ridiculous and further illustrates a lack of understanding of business practices on Mrs. Powser's part.

I can proudly say that I have lived most of my life in Wayne and I, personally, am insulted to thing my peers and I are being "fed" falsehoods via the mail (or any other medium). I resent receiving printed materials which are copied in part from other documents, which quote information taken out of context and which give voice to the negative and suspicious attitudes of individuals who are either totally misguided or inherently ignorant. I am proud of our town and appreciative of the services provided by a very fine group of city servants. Hopefully, there are enough others in agreement with me who will stand up, pay attention and vote accordingly.

Cox pledges to work for fairness and equality

To the Editor:

A recent letter to the editor indicated that because I distributed a piece of campaign literature that was not prepared by a union printer, I lack respect for labor unions. In truth, I have been an ardent supporter of labor and am proud to have been endorsed by the Westland Firefighters, the Westland Police Officers, the Westland Lts. & Sgts. Association, the United Auto Workers Region 1A CAP, UAW Local 900, the Greater Detroit Building Trades Council, AFL-CIO, AFSCME Local 1602 and even the letter writer's own union, the Michigan Education Association. These labor groups are well aware that I planned to prepare one piece of literature with a Westland printer and they are aware that there are no union printers in Westland.

The real issue here is that the writer of this letter, Mr. Michael Chiumento, is the same individual that pressured the Wayne-Westland School District while I was President to include sexual orientation language in board policy. He is now the center of controversy in the Plymouth-Canton School District, where he teaches, for setting up a pro-gay and lesbian display in the display case at West Middle School, which is attended by 12, 13 & 14-year-old children. He is a member of the Gay-Lesbian Education Network, a supporter of the Triangle Foundation and a vocal proponent to schoolchildren for the normalcy of "alternative lifestyles." Though he might have you believe that his intent by his letter is to protect the interests of labor, it is actually to promote the normalcy of gay-lesbian lifestyle in our schools and our society and my failure to bend to his wishes made me his enemy.

I believe in equal rights for all people and that no person should be persecuted, tormented or harassed for any reason whatever including

Filling in the Spaces

Question: I have a couple of teeth missing. What are my options for replacing them?

Answer: Missing teeth can cause many problems: Decreased chewing ability, drifting of the remaining teeth, not to mention it just doesn't look good. One of the solutions is to place a bridge in the mouth. A bridge consists of putting a crown or "cap" on the teeth on either side of the open space and a false tooth/teeth are joined in between them. It is a permanent fixture in the mouth and can last many years if not the rest of your life.

Another option is a removable partial denture or "partial." A partial is an appliance similar to a retainer with clasps that hold on to the remaining teeth. False teeth are attached to it which fill in the spaces. Like its name says, it is removable, not a permanent fixture.

Finally there are implants. Implants are titanium screws which are surgically placed in the remaining bone. They become a permanent part of the mouth and act as new "roots." On top of these roots the dentist will place a crown or bridge to fill in the missing space.

At your next appointment, ask your dentist what can be done to restore your mouth to its optimum state.

Romulus, Glenn clear 1st playoff obstacles

Eagles crush Carlson in 1st-round

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Michael Woods was quick to send a message to Gibraltar Carlson, a team that shares the 1999 Mega Conference, Blue Division football title with Romulus High.

Woods, a senior who is a wide receiver-defensive back and returns punts, grabbed the opening kickoff in the Friday night pre-district against Carlson and bolted past on-rushing, would-be Carlson tacklers and raced 85-yards for the opening touchdown that jolted the crowd of 2,000 at Carlson to its feet.

Woods's TD was followed up by running back Charlie Thompson's first of two touchdowns that opened the flood gates that would eventually bury Carlson, 43-8, in their pre-district opener.

The victory provided coach Mark Woodson and the Eagles' their ninth victory in 10 starts and left little doubt who the true champ in the Blue Division was in '99.

Romulus will place its 8-2 record on the block Friday night at Monroe Jefferson, its second round playoff opponent.

"Our game plan against Carlson was basically to focus on our mistakes and, if we could not eliminate them, keep them at a minimum," Woodson later said. "We only had three penalties, and I felt we had succeeded in doing what we set out to do."

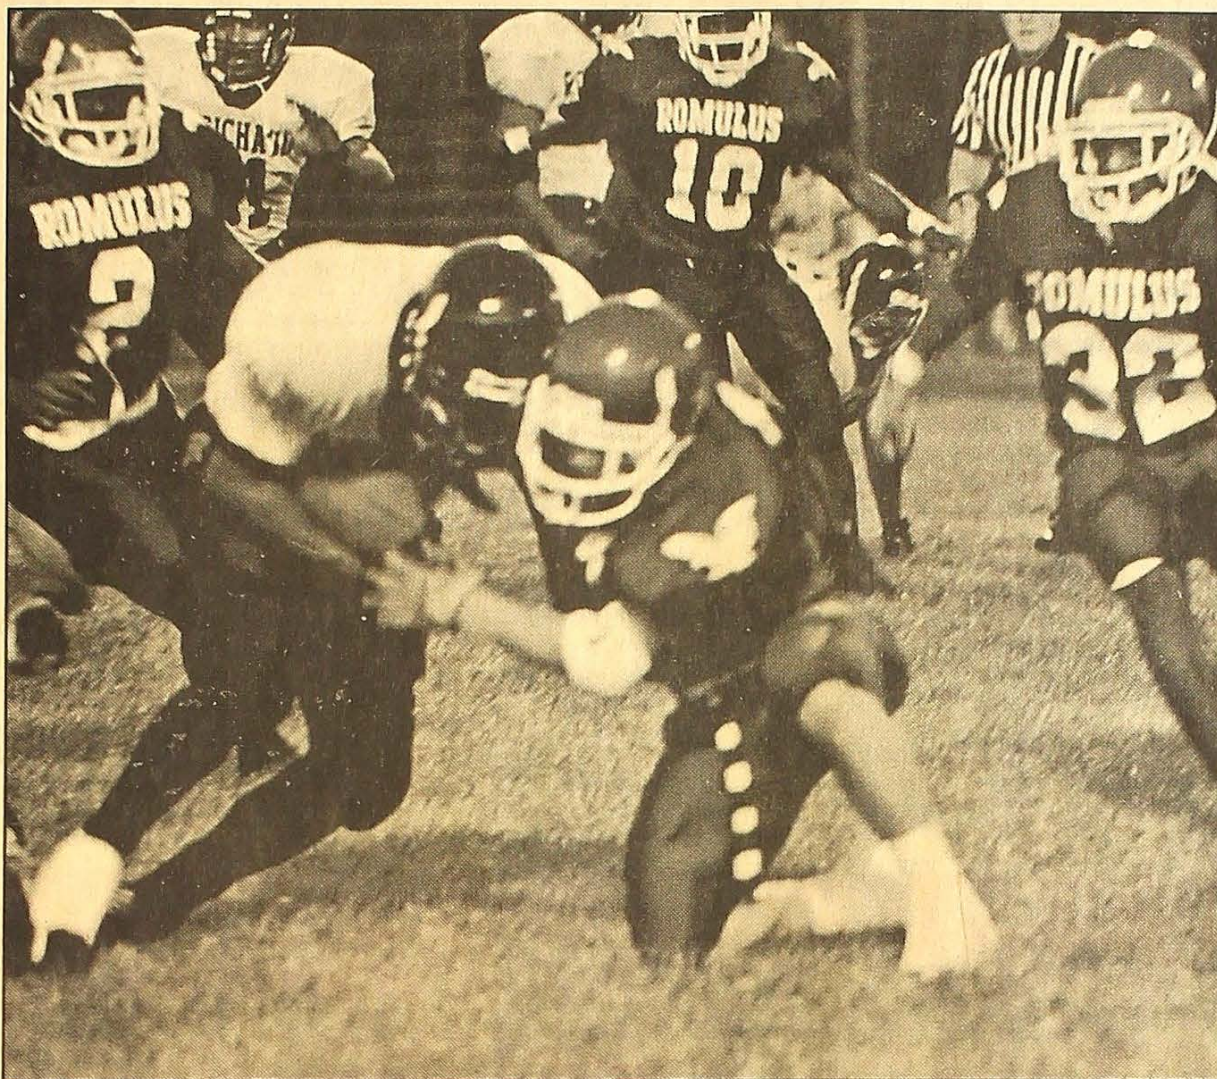

Carlson backed-up into the Blue Division co-championship thanks to Thurston, who upset Romulus in the final divisional game of the season.

On Friday, Romulus was not in a sharing mood with anyone.

After Woodson's message-sending kickoff return, Romulus quarterback David Moomaw came right back and led a late first period drive that culminated early in the second quarter with Thompson's eight-yard touchdown run.

Rick Foster then booted his second point-after to give the Eagles a 14-0 halftime lead.

Carlson continued to help in its own demise when a bad

With key players Rick Foster (No. 3, above), Charlie Thompson (making the tackle), Mark Carter (32), Ray Graves (10) and Paris Sharpley (2) stepping up their games a notch for the playoffs, Mega Conference, Blue Division co-champs crushed Gibraltar Carlson Friday night in the opening round of the pre-district playoffs. snap from center sailed over the quarterback's head and landed in the Carlson end zone. One of Carlson's players scooped up the ball and attempted to pass it, but the officials called intentional grounding and awarded the Eagles a safety.

Woodson believes that the two-pointer pounded the nail to Carlson's coffin.

"Whatever momentum they had, it ended with that play," Woodson believes.

Thompson, Moomaw and Mark Carter, who returned an interception 25 yards for a touchdown all scored against Carlson.

On defense, Chris Talley had a big game as he also picked off two errant Carlson passes.

Foster and Thompson also carved up Carlson on defense. Foster came up with eight solos and five assists while Thompson finished with six solo tackles and registered three assists.

Woodson also lauded the performance of Myron Mosby, who stood out on defense as well as offense, taking on the extra responsibility after Shawntez Gregory, a 5-20, 237-pound nose guard, was hurt.

Undeclared Henry Ford is next for Rockets

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn Friday night took on the best the Mega Conference Red Division had to offer in 1999 and came out a 26-14 winner against Monroe in the first-round of the pre-district high school football playoffs.

Now, all coach Chuck Gordon and the Rockets have to do is to put undefeated, state-ranked and the cream of the crop in the Detroit Public Schools, Henry Ford, in the losing column, and they will keep their season alive.

But Henry Ford may have something else in mind when these two prep powerhouses clash at 1 p.m. Saturday at Henry Ford High School. (Henry Ford High is located at 20000 Evergreen in northwest Detroit.)

Gordon, who has managed to field 11 teams that have made the playoffs over the years, including the 1993 club that played in the Class A state finals in the Pontiac Silverdome, knows his Rockets will have to play a flawless game to stay on the same field with the Detroiters.

"Their record speaks for itself," Gordon said. "You don't win 10 games without excellent coaching and talent. We're going to have to play a perfect game against them if we want to win."

Glenn played a near perfect second quarter against Monroe after a shaky start. The hosts drew first blood and were up 7-0 after four minutes had expired before Jerry Catarino's 30-yard field goal put the Rockets on the scoreboard and made it a 7-3 game.

Two Glenn second-quarter touchdowns lifted the Rockets to a 17-7 halftime lead thanks to Eric Jones' first of two TDs. Jones' cashed in on a 20-yard dash into the Monroe end zone with 7:27 on the clock that put his team in the lead for good. Catarino then followed with to his first of three point-after.

Notable in that first Glenn TD series and two subsequent drives was freshman quarterback Brian Cechiewicz's effort on fourth-down situations. He converted to keep the drives alive. Cechiewicz came back with two other separate fourth-down conversions that frustrated Monroe's defense.

With three minutes left before the intermission, Glenn safety and "unsung hero" of the team, Chad Sansom, decided to shed the adjective and stepped into the hero's role when he picked off a pass and returned the ball across the Monroe goal line from 39 yards out.

The momentum and the evening and the game belonged to the visitors.

Then, to add icing on a warm October eve, in the third quarter, and after Catarino booted a punt 67 yards which Nick Paddock downed on the Monroe one-yard line, the Rockets scored again, but this time thanks to the defense. Linebackers Jake Tharp and Jeff Mitchell nailed the Monroe fullback behind the goal line for the two-point safety.

After a second Sansom interception, Cechiewicz managed to take the Rockets on a long, time-consuming drive that sealed the Glenn victory. But the Rockets still had time to score one more time.

With 6:13 left, Jones dove over from the one for the final TD and Catarino successfully converted.

Jones, who had 26 rushing opportunities and scored two touchdowns, picked up 204 yards to bring his season's total to 1,834 yards. His total eclipsed former Glenn great, Reggie Spearmon's 1998 record of 1,634 yards.

Wayne snaps losing streak

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It was a morale-boosting way for Wayne Memorial to end the Mega Conference Red Division girls' basketball season, and coach Wayne Woodard hopes the 39-31 win over Taylor Kennedy will provide his team with the momentum for a successful run in the first-ever conference playoffs.

"It was nice to end the regular season with a victory," said Woodard, who pointed out that his club's 2-15 overall record may be frustrating, "but it's something for all of us to work on to improve."

"I could not ask for a nicer group of players," Woodward continued. "They are intelligent - we have kids that have 3.4 to 4.0 grade point averages. They're coachable and they always show up ready for practice."

Wayne was ready for Kennedy as the Zebras led 9-5 after the first period and managed to stay ahead thanks to Sheila Honeycutt and Crystal Harris, the only two players who scored in double figures for the game.

Though the outcome of the game remained in doubt to the end, Wayne never relinquished the lead, outscoring their rivals 13-10 in each of the final two periods to salt the decision away.

Honeycutt finished with a game high 13 points while Harris chipped in 10 for Wayne who made 13 of 27 offerings at the free throw line.

Jefferson's FB is tough to stop

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus may be seeing a southpaw quarterback in Steven Kinsland Friday night, but it's Monroe Jefferson's senior fullback Tony Alexa who the Romulus are concerned about and must stop if they hope to advance to the region

3, Division 2 championship round.

Alexa, a 6-1, 205-pound ball-carrier who likes to plow right into and out of the defensive lines, has been instrumental in leading his team to the Huron Conference championship and was the key figure in Jefferson's lopsided 41-21 victory over a highly-touted Trenton team last week in the first-round of the playoffs.

"They (Monroe Jefferson) like to play power football," said Romulus coach Mark Woodson. "They have the a strong, physical line that provides the backfield with options that we must stop."

"But, it's Alexa who can hurt you if you're not psyched up to play."

Kinsland also has two fine running backs in Matthew Duball and Jeff Davidson to handoff to when Alexa doesn't get the call.

Game time for the District 1, Region 3 playoff game at Monroe Jefferson is 7 p.m. on Friday.

Madison Heights ends Inkster's playoff dreams

Best-ever Viking season

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Inkster High's history-making football season came to an abrupt end under atypical October day on Saturday.

With the fall temperatures climbing to a record 76 degrees, under a clear, sun-lit sky, coach Mark Townsend's and the Vikings were greeted by an enthusiastic home crowd on their home turf that had swelled since opening day.

The army of Inkster supporters stood at about 1,000 when, on Saturday, Inkster made its debut in post-season football competition against a talented Madison Heights Lamphere team.

The Vikings showed no signs of playoff jitters or apprehension in the first 12 minutes of the duel.

In fact, when Inkster quarterback Michael Hunter guided the Vikings on a 85-yard sustained drive that led to running back Lou Hawkins' five-yard touchdown run, the Vikings looked as if they were invincible.

But Lamphere came back to score two unanswered touchdowns in the second quarter and went on to win the pre-district game, 26-6.

The Vikings showed no signs of playoff jitters or apprehension in the first 12 minutes of the duel.

The loss shattered Inkster's playoff dreams.

"We just ran out of gas," said Townsend, afterwards in a brief explanation for his team's demise. "What else can I say. We lost. Am I disappointed? Of course I am - but am I disappointed in my team and in my kids.

"Never. These kids gave it everything they had, but it just wasn't enough for today."

Townsend, in his third year as head coach, said reaching the playoffs was an accomplishment in itself. "Now, we must built on that."

The Vikings finished the 1999 campaign with an unprecedented 7-3 overall record. They were second to River Rouge in the race for the Mega Conference, Gold Division title race.

No other Inkster team in recent years can match the 1999 team's success.

Hawkins also rushed for 75 yards in 12 attempts and scored what proved to be the Vikings' final touchdown of the 20th Century.

Hunter attempted 13 passes and completed six for an additional 80 yards. Two of the completions went to Alphonso Clark, who had 65 yards.

Townsend noted that of the 19 players who completed the season, only six will graduate. Those six include Hawkins, the team's co-captain, along with linebackers Anthony Wimberly and William Morris.

Inkster also loses Jamal Poole, Chris Tomlinson and Marcell Ashberry.

"We have a fine nucleus of players returning, and we feel that the program here has finally been turned around," Townsend added.

Townsend also thanked the administration, his staff, teachers and parents and the fans for the "excellent support" during the year.

He also said that one exceptional fan, Pat Williams, owner of Stardust Lounge, "provided meals to team members and we are truly indebted to her for here generosity."

Romulus Junior Varsity follows in varsity step

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Keeping in step with their counterparts on varsity, the Romulus Junior Varsity football squad dominated the Mega Conference and posted a perfect 9-0 overall record this season.

Like their "big brothers", the junior varsity is a repeat conference champ, but they went on step beyond and compiled 18 consecutive victories over the past two years and head coach John D. Moomaw attributes the success of the team to "the kids".

"We can teach the fundamentals of the game, give kids direction and stress discipline," said Moomaw, a 1972 Romulus High graduate, "but it's up to them to implement. To carry out what they are taught."

"This team is special because of these kids."

Moomaw, joined by a staff made up of defensive coordinator Matt Ladach, line coach Chris Imperati, and special team's coach Steven Lanskroener, is in his third year as head coach. His last two seasons have been "perfect".

"We've been fortunate in that these kids have a great desire to learn and are ready to make the sacrifice of time and effort."

With a backfield that includes sophomore quarterback David Cox, tailback Chris Middlebrooks, fullback Devon Weatherholt, and wingbacks Anson Long and Aaron Brown, the Eagles began the 1999 campaign with a 21-12 victory over Wayne Memorial.

Then, during the next eight weeks the Eagles shut out Taylor Kennedy, 39-0; buried Southgate Anderson, 33-6, and overwhelmed Dearborn Heights Robichaud, 48-0.

The Eagles entered the second half of the season equally determined as they posted their third shutout of the campaign at the expense of Melvindale (36-0). They went on to beat Gibraltar Carlson (32-7); Trenton (38-0) and avenged the varsity loss to Redford Thurston, 32-12.

Moomaw's Eagles sealed their second unbeaten season with a hard-fought 28-18 victory over neighboring Belleville.

Rounding out the Eagles' line up are: Justin Goodman (tight end); Rick Thinehart (tackle); Wesley Jenkins (guard); Michael Moomaw (center); Michael Madison (guard) and Steve Maddox (tackle).

The varsity squad, coached by Mark Woodson, has won titles the past two years and made history by claiming the championship in the Mega Conference, Gold Division, a year ago, then coming back to win the Mega Conference, Blue Division crown, the only school ever in the Mega to capture championships in two separate divisions in the three-tier divisions of the Mega Conference.

With members of the undefeated junior varsity eventually filling in the spots that are ultimately vacated on varsity through graduation, the Eagles may have the troops in reserve to move on into the Red Division and win titles in all three tiers of their conference.

No prediction - just a possibility.

For the second consecutive season, Romulus High Junior Varsity football squad has finished with a perfect 9-0 record. Coach John D. Moomaw's Eagles have now won 18 straight over a period of two years. Pictured above are the undefeated Romulus High Junior Varsity Team and the Eagles' coaching staff

Romulus woman, 78, truly proves that ability is ageless

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus resident Georgia Bradford — cited for over 25 years of work in the adult services network — was honored recently at an Operation Able "Ability is Ageless" award luncheon in Dearborn.

Bradford was selected from a pool of over 125 candidates. "Georgia Bradford is an excellent example of the outstanding older workers in our community," Operation ABLE President Karen Kosniowski revealed at the luncheon.

The luncheon is held annually to bring honor to mid-career and older employees, who daily make a difference to their companies with their experience, their work ethic and their commitment to excellence.

Bradford, 78, currently is a program development specialist at the Senior Alliance in Wayne.

She is a former senior center director, who came to the agency back in 1984. She has spearheaded a number of vital programs since then including the Silver Pages, equipment grants for the senior center and Gatekeepers — where she often receives correspondence from President Clinton's White House staff to address issues concerning senior citizens.

Bradford also has overseen the implementation of the Michigan Emergency Pharmaceutical Program for Seniors (MEPPS). This program aids low income seniors in need of prescription medication.

Monique James, contracts manager at the Senior Alliance, was proud to announce that Bradford "has no plans to retire."

James was Bradford's nominator, and vows "she takes pride in her work and is very compassionate when matters arise affecting the quality of the lives of others."

The top honor of the day — the Neal Shine Ability is Ageless Award — was presented to legendary weathercaster Sonny Eliot — who has been in the business for 53 years. He currently appears on WWJ Newsradio 950.

Thanksgiving luncheon is slated for Romulus seniors

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A special Thanksgiving luncheon for Romulus senior citizens is slated to be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 17 at the Romulus Middle School.

Conducted with the help of Betty Santo and various Romulus students, the seniors will be welcomed, entertained and provided with a tasty holiday meal.

Deadline for taking part in the luncheon is at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Romulus Senior Center.

Free oil changes will occur for Romulus senior citizens beginning at 8 a.m. Nov. 19 at the Romulus High School Auto Lab Department.

Once again participants need to sign up at the Romulus Senior Center now. Appointments are mandatory.

Linda Norman, senior center director, is urging local residents to drop off large cardboard boxes at the senior center as soon as possible.

The boxes — similar to ones used to store new home appliances — are needed for pending intergenerational projects.

"If you or someone you know is planning on purchasing such an appliance soon, let the senior center know so that the pick up of the box can be set up," Norman said.

Free legal help for area seniors will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 9 at the Senior Center. The first 25 people will be seen by the Wayne County Free Legal Aid representatives.

If you need to talk to a lawyer visit the center from 3 to 5 p.m. Nov. 10 or Dec. 8.

Adopt Civil War veteran, historical unit requests

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The life of Anzi Moore, a native of Canton who served in the American Civil War, is now outlined in about 200 pages of pension records now housed in the National Archives.

To date the Canton Historical Society has learned that Moore was born in Canton on Dec. 14, 1841 — the son of Alfred and Lousia (Rose) Moore. They lived on Warren Road, west of Ridge Road, and remarkably the house is still standing.

Records show that Moore worked on his father's farm just before entering the war and for several years after.

Moore enlisted in Company D, Third Michigan Calvary with the rank of corporal on Sept. 25, 1861.

He mustered out of the service on Feb. 12, 1866 at San Antonio, Tex.

He initially returned to Canton after the war, but in 1879 moved to Livingston County in Michigan and later moved again to Belding in Ionia County.

He was employed as a cabinetmaker and finish carpenter. Moore was buried in Belding.

The Canton Historical Society is hoping someone will adopt Moore so they can add his pension records to their museum's archives.

CHS secretary David Curtis said area residents and others often use the museum archives to learn more about their relatives' lives.

The Canton Museum is located at the corner of Canton Center Road and Heritage Drive (near the new fire house). It is open from 1 to 3 p.m. on Tuesdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

Utilities prepared for Y2K

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Who's afraid of the Y2K bug? Not Westland.

"I don't see the world ending," Mayor Bob Thomas said last spring. "But it bothers me that we may see people panic."

To prevent a panic, Thomas proposed taping a cable TV show to be broadcast on WLND.

"It will recommend things for people to do without scaring or panicking them," said Thomas.

Dozens of government and utility officials will appear on the show, which was taped Thursday evening in a meeting room at the Westland Friendship Center.

The Y2K bug refers to problems caused by many computer chips inability to read dates beyond Dec. 31, 1999. If not repaired, the bug could cause machines, appliances, and utility to malfunction in unexpected ways, a potentially dangerous situation for motorists, hospital patients, or anybody living in a cold client. However, utilities, corporations, and governments, who have been fixing or replacing computer chips for two-four years, claim that most Y2K problems have been solved.

At the cable show taping, one by one company spokesmen and municipal officials boasted about whipping the Y2K bug.

"We are ready or will be in two weeks," said Kevin Quiggle, representing Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

To make believers out of the public, Quiggle rattled off four-digit numbers and statistics detailing the utility's repair effort.

"We designated for repair or replacement 3,000 embedded chips containing embedded chips with date functions," he said. "We surveyed 18,600 suppliers and 200 vendors for Y2K readiness."

He gave out a hotline number (313) 964-9562 for people who needed reassurance or have potential Y2K problems.

At the meeting, officials seeking to reassure the public gave out their phone numbers as frequently as at a singles bar patrons. Bill

Pike, of Consumers Energy said, "My office number is (734) 513-6200."

"Our job is to be ready to provide natural gas," he said, explaining that gas will be flowing on Jan. 1 because Consumers runs a manual system with no date embedded chips.

"Of course, there are no guarantees in life."

Robert Jones, of Ameritech, topped the others by giving out two contact numbers, (313) 389-9113 and (313) 389-9223.

"Since Aug. 29, all of our communications systems have been ready," he said.

Likewise representatives from Annapolis Hospital, Detroit Edison, Michigan State Police, Wayne-Westland Community Schools said that, like Boy Scouts, they were prepared.

While the city of Westland does not provide utility services, city officials assured residents that employees will be on hand when the New Year arrives help with residents with Y2K disruptions.

are kept safe and secure. The continual and incessant drive to keep our county defenseless by requesting the ratification of the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty defies the virtues of common sense and logic.

We have seemingly learned nothing from experience. Past arms control treaties and most notably the recent one with Russia have done nothing more than encourage the other countries to hasten in a catch-up mode for nuclear parity. They have succeeded while we have retreated.

In the past, the principal reason for treaties was to have something to break and in that respect they have been eminently successful. The philosophy that to weaken ourselves will encourage the others to wallow into our quagmire is a strange and addled one. Our attempts to show the world that we are pure of heart by not moving in the direction of protecting ourselves is criminal. All are arming themselves and in fact we have gone a longer way in keeping Russia, China and others armed than we have with our own military.

Clinton has more than paid back the Russians for giving him safe haven during the Vietnam conflict. He has more than paid back the Chinese by putting their nuclear and missile testing on fast forward to the extent that they saved about twenty years of technology research. Aside from allowing them the Panama Canal in January and almost getting away with leasing a former U.S. Naval Station to them in Long Beach, California it was time for he and his Socialists to be stopped.

I am reminded of the Psychiatrist Karl Menniger of the Menniger Clinic who wrote, "the extraordinary propensity of the human being to join hands with external forces in an attack upon his own existence is one of the most remarkable of biological phenomena."

Sincerely,
George M. Haddad

Jewelry thief suspect arrested

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

The arrest of a suspected 20-year-old burglar Sunday at his Canton hideout may help police solve a series of area break-ins.

On Monday in 35th District Court, Michael Kelly Sutherland, 20, of Canton, pleaded "not guilty" to breaking and entering into a home on the 42000 block of Metairie in Canton on Oct. 18.

Sutherland faced at 9 a.m. Monday preliminary exam at the 35th District Court. Until then, he's being held on a $250,000 cash bond.

Canton police arrested Sutherland last Sunday.

"It appears the suspect is involved in numerous B and Es in Canton," said Canton Officer Leonard Schemanske. "Other area police agencies are investigating the suspects involvement in crimes in their community."

Sutherland's charge stem from the burglary of two gold bracelets and cash from the Metairie home.

The home's bedrooms had been ransacked and robbed of jewelry and cash by someone who had apparently broken in through a kitchen window. The burglar apparently carried his booty out the front door.

Canton detectives and evidence technicians investigated the case and a warrant was obtained for Sutherland's arrest.

Tipped off that the suspect was hiding at a house on the 42000 block of Gloria in Canton, two police officers arrived there to make the arrest.

Sutherland surrendered in the back yard, submitted to handcuffs, was transported to Canton's police station and booked.

Meanwhile, one off the arresting officers returned to the Gloria house and, with permission, searched it.

The officer found Sutherland's 18-year-old girlfriend in the basement wearing rings on her fingers and bracelets on her wrists.

The officer took three rings and five bracelets into evidence, hoping to link the possibly stolen pieces to other area burglaries.

Halloween decorations stolen

Thieves stole Halloween decorations from two Westland homes.

Decorations worth $150 were stolen from a home on the 35000 block of Florence midnight to 3 a.m. Sunday.

At the same time, decorations worth $200 were stolen from a home on the 100 block of N. Karl. There are no suspects

I will always work towards fairness and equality for all people everywhere as I feel bigotry and prejudice are hateful damaging emotions that cannot be tolerated in a civilized society. I have often wondered why, given Mr. Chiumento's life experience, he hasn't arrived at the same conclusion.

6. Legal-Notices

Medicare/Medicaid Notice to the Public

Notice is hereby given that the agreement between the Secretary of Health and Human Services and Wayne Total Living Center in Wayne, Michigan, as a provider of services in the Medicare program will remain in effect. In addition, as authorized by the Michigan Department of Community Health, notice is given that the facility's agreement as a nursing facility in the Medicaid program also remains in effect. This notice supersedes the prior notice of September 5, 1999.

Based on the findings from a revisit survey, the Health Care Financing Administration has determined that Wayne Total Living Center is qualified to participate in the Medicare program. Therefore, the Medicare program will continue to make payments for skilled nursing services furnished to eligible residents admitted prior to June 16, 1999 and after September 9, 1999. These dates are due to a previously imposed denial of payment for new admissions which was discontinued on September 10, 1999.
